COURSE

DESCRIPTION: This course is a practical introduction to the software applications most commonly used in business. Students will develop a basic working knowledge of a desktop operating system and a suite of business software applications that will include file management, word processing, spreadsheet, presentation and database management.

COURSE

OUTLINE: Over the past few years both the public and private sectors have moved to streamline their operations. This is often done by reducing the complement of staff personnel which they employ. This move to the more efficient use of human resources has resulted in managers frequently being required to perform duties that were formerly performed by secretaries and stenographers. Indeed, it is no longer uncommon to see managers preparing their own reports and typing their own memos.

To meet these changing trends, graduates of this Business Administration program are expected to be fully conversant with word processing, spreadsheets, databases, and presentation software along with other microcomputer software products.
