Instructor	Jenny Head	Phone	(972) 310 - 3975
E-mail	jhead@gprc.ab.ca	Virtual Office Hours	TBA

Prerequisite(s)/co requisite(s):

None

Required Text/Resource Materials:

Langton, N., & Robbins, S. P. (2010). Organizational Behaviour: Concepts, Controversies, Applications. (5th Canadian Ed.). Toronto. Pearson Prentice Hall.

Description:

The organization of human productive energy is the central focus of this introductory course. Themes of balancing task, relationship requirements, and the needs of the organization with those of the individual, are stressed. Specific topics include: perception, personality, values, attitudes, motivation, group behaviour, teamwork, power and politics, and conflict and negotiation.

Credit/Contact Hours:

This is a 3 credit course.

Delivery Mode(s):

The course is delivered entirely online using Moodle software. For each chapter a PowerPoint presentation will be posted, along with supplemental instructional notes. There will be an area to discuss problems and/or questions for each chapter. I will assign relevant questions to test your knowledge, understanding, and application of the material.

You will proceed through the course as a group, completing each chapter in the order it is presented and during the week it is assigned.

Moodle:

Moodle is a Learning Management System used to help improve communications between the student and instructor. Important information, announcements and grades will be posted on Moodle. The grades posted on Moodle are not final, check your GPRC account for your final term grade.

Objectives:

1. To explore the meaning of Organizational Behaviour.
2. To view how perception, personality, values and attitudes can impact the workplace.
3. To apply different theories of motivation to the workforce.
4. To explore the concept of teamwork and its use in the workplace.
5. To discover how effective interaction can occur to achieve cohesive work groups.

Transferability:

AU

Students can also refer to the Alberta Transfer Guide at <http://www.acat.gov.ab.ca> for a list of institutions. Students are however strongly advised to check with the receiving institution for more details and to ensure transferability.

 Grade of D or D+ may not be acceptable for transfer to other post-secondary institutions.

Grading Criteria:

Assignment, Quiz, Exam and Discussion Policies:

- You should think of each assignment as a professional presentation that you would prepare for a client or your immediate supervisor. The evaluation will take into consideration the overall neatness of your work, correct spelling and grammar, and effective communication of the required information. Assignments are to be submitted to me through the drop box located under each assignment. It is YOUR responsibility to ensure that I receive all of your assignments.
- There will be three quizzes given via Moodle. You will be given one attempt to complete the quiz with a limited amount of time. You are NOT required to have a proctor for the quizzes.
- There is no due date for quizzes and assignments but quiz one and two, the breakfast club assignment and the case: A Question of Motivation must be submitted before you will be eligible to write term test one. In order to be eligible to write the final, the final two cases must be completed along with quiz three.
- The midterm and final exam will be given online via Moodle. The midterm and final exam must be supervised by an approved proctor. Please submit the name, number and email address of your proctor to me five days prior to desired exam date. If you are in the Grande Prairie area, it is recommended that the exam be taken at the testing center in Student Services at G.P.R.C. Contact Erin Gonci at (780) 539-2050 or EGonci@GPRC.ab.ca to book a time.
- The midterm and final exam will be online via Moodle.
- Textbooks will not be allowed in the examination area.
- Students will be allotted 90 minutes to complete Midterm 1 and three hours to complete the final exam.
- Students are expected to contribute to all of the discussion forums. Students will be graded not only on the quantity of posts but also on the quality.
